

Lesson No: 10

A WORLD WITHOUT BOOKS

Q: How does a book connect the reader and the writer?

A: A book connects the reader and the writer by developing a connection as a bridge between the reader's real world and the world described upon the pages.

Q: In what way are books better than radio, TV and internet?

A: Books are better than radio, TV and internet as they are also a form of technology that is spread over the pages which we can read at our disposal to explore the complexities of life.

Q: "It's a slow food in a world given over to fast food" explain?

A: The term slow food is metaphorically used for the books and fast food is used for the blogs, text messages and e-books etc. Where slow food is better than fast food, the book reading is much better in nourishing the mind as compared to the instantly available knowledge and information.

Q: Why should people be given more opportunity to read books?

A: People should be given more opportunity to read books because books are a shelter for those who travel for the quest of the knowledge. They are the symbol of sustenance as man lives his life by showing compassion and feelings for others.

Q: Which book has inspired you the most? Why?

A: "The Sun also Rises" have inspired me the most. It is a novel by Earnest Hemingway. The reason is that it gives me message of hope and optimism. I get much inspiration when I come across the lines like. One generation goes, the other comes, the earth revolves and the sun also rises.
