BACKGROUND OF PAKISTAN MOVEMENTLONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Describe the background of Pakistan Movement.

(K.B)

Ans: BACKGROUND OF PAKISTAN MOVEMENT

Pakistan Movement is that movement which is launched by Muslims in British India to achieve an independent homeland, which led to the establishment of Pakistan. The Pakistan Movement was in fact a historic struggle for the protection of the national identity and religious culture of the Muslims, the main purpose of which was to protect the rights of the Muslims and to assert their identity as a nation. For which the establishment of a separate state was extremely necessary. To know the background of Pakistan Movement, it is necessary to know about the rise and fall of Muslims in the subcontinent. The details of which is given below.

Arrival of Muslims:

Islam is always mentioned in the subcontinent with the arrival of Muslims because the first regular arrival of Islam in the subcontinent is known with reference to Muhammad bin Qasim.

Decline of Muslim government:

Aurangzeb Alamgir was the last of these great kings of the Mughal dynasty. Aurangzeb ruled for 49 years but after that there was no one who could stable the Mughal Empire. Aurangzeb is said to have treated the Rajputs, Sikhs, Marhats and all non-Muslim nations better, leaving the Mughals alone. Aurangzeb's successor could not handle the empire. After 1707, there were signs of decline in the Muslim government.

Effort for Stability of Muslim Government:

After a few years, with the emergence of Shah Wali Ullah as a great reformer, a forceful movement started for the restoration of Islam and the Muslim fortitude. On the academic front, Shah Wali Ullah, his sons, grandsons and subsequently his pupils played an important role.

British Influence:

The British East India Company received trade permits from India in 1600 during the reign of Queen Elizabeth I. Gradually, at the political level, the British increased their influence in the name of the Commercial East India Company.

Battle of Plassey:

The battle between Nawab Siraj-ud-Daulah of Bengal and British General Clive was fought on the banks of the Bhagirathi River at a distance of 70 miles from Calcutta. British General Clive wanted to occupy all of Bengal. Siraj ud Daulah, the Nawab of Bengal, tried to hold them back but he was betrayed by his own people and was martyred in the battle of Plassi.

Martyr of the Tipu Sultan:

In 1799, Sultan Tipu, the ruler of Mysore, also became a victim of treason and died a martyr's death and the Khudabad Empire of Mysore collapsed and became a feudatory state under the East India Company. The family of the ancient Hindu king was given the headship of this state but this state and headship was short because this state was divided by the will of the British rulers.

Faraizi movement:

But the effect of the movement continued as a source of inspiration especially in Bengal where Faraizi Movement emerged prominent. The primary objective of Faraizi Movement was to urge the Muslims to perform their obligations. Whose leader was Syed Ahmad Shaheed Bareilvi.

Fight with Sikhs:

In 1831, Syed Ahmad Shaheed alongwith his principal lieutenant Syed Ismail was martyred in battle with the Sikhs at Balakot. Thus, the last effort to revive Islam militarily also failed.

War of Independence:

The war of independence 1857 was also an attempt for the restoration of Muslims' political power and fortitude. But here too the Muslims were defeated by traitors like Mir Sadique. This war proved to be the last nail in the coffin of the decline of the Muslims of the subcontinent but this war made it clear to the Muslims that they could not live together with the Hindus in any way. The interests of the two nations cannot be the same. From here a new era of life began for the Muslims of the subcontinent. Which consisted of the independence movement. Muslims fought for their survival and protection of their rights and succeeded after nearly a hundred years of struggle.

Outcome:

The background and events of the Pakistan Movement were the motives that gave political revival and stability to the Muslims.

ALIGARH MOVEMENT AND SIR SYED AHMAD KHAN

LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Highlight the political, social and educational aspects of Aligarh Movement. (K.B)

Ans:

ALIGARH MOVEMENT

Introduction of Sir Syed Ahmad Khan:

Sir Syed Ahmad Khan was born in Delhi on October 17, 1817. His forefathers came to India from Herat during the reign of their ancestor Jahan. He studied Arabic and Persian according to the tradition. In his primary education, he studied the Holy Quran and also studied Arabic and Persian literature. He also mastered arithmetic, medicine and history. Sir Syed Ahmad Khan died at the age of 81 on March 27, 1898 and was buried in his college mosque. He worked for the educational, political and religious development of Muslims. The aims of Sir Syed Ahmad Khan's Aligarh Movement were as follows:

Social Objectives of Aligarh Movement:

With the failure of the war of independence, the darkest period of the Muslim history of subcontinent started. The Muslims as a nation became a victim of the British hatred and atrocities. In these circumstances, Sir Syed Ahmad Khan took the lead in steering the nation through Aligarh movement. The Aligarh movement of Sir Syed Ahmad Khan had the following objectives:

Objectives of Aligarh Movement:

- To build confidence between the government and the Muslims.
- To persuade the Muslims to acquire modern education and learn English language.
- To keep the Muslims of the subcontinent away from politics.

Educational Objectives of Aligarh Movement

Sir Syed Ahmad Khan had realized that much of the responsibility for the present condition of the Muslims in India was due to the extremist attitude of the Muslims themselves. The Muslims of India considered the British as their enemy and considered learning English as against their religion. Because of this attitude of the Muslims, a gulf was created between the British and the Muslims. Sir Syed Ahmad Khan realized that unless the Muslims changed their attitude towards English education and the British, their condition could not improve. And they will always be behind the Hindus in the field of education. That is why Sir Syed Ahmad Khan founded many educational institutions so that Muslims could get a higher position by getting education. At the beginning of the twentieth century, the educated class of Muslims was educated in this educational institution. He founded the following educational institutions:

- In 1859 he established a school in Muradabad.
- In 1863, he founded the Scientific Society in Ghazipur.
- In 1875 M.A.O. High School was established in Aligarh.
- In 1877 M.A.O. High School was upgraded to College.
- In 1920, Aligarh College upgraded to Aligarh University.

Political objectives of Aligarh Movement

Sir Syed Ahmad Khan advised the Muslims to stay away from politics and focus all their attention on education and economic and social rehabilitation so that they could attain the status of Hindus. After the War of Independence, Sir Syed Ahmad Khan was no less a political messiah. In order to maintain the existence of the Muslims of the subcontinent, he went ahead and tried to remove the misunderstanding of the British.

The causes of India Revolt:

One of Sir Syed's most important service in restoring relations between the Muslims and the British was "The Causes of the Indian revolt". In this magazine, he informed the British government about the real reasons for the War of Independence of 1857.

Indian National Congress:

Sir Syed Ahmad Khan considered the Muslims to be politically weak, he therefore, restrained them from joining the Indian National Congress which was founded in 1885. He urged the Muslims to acquire knowledge first and then take part in the politics of the subcontinent.

Outcome:

Sir Syed Ahmad Khan's deeds were not limited to his life but he started a movement which continued his national service even after his death. Sir Syed Ahmad Khan promoted the Muslims in a series through the Aligarh Movement, which formed a separate Muslim identity.

PARTITION OF BENGAL 1905

LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Write a detailed note on the Partition of Bengal 1905.

(K.B)

Ans: PARTITION OF BENGAL 1905

Background:

In British India, the province of Bengal was larger than all other provinces in terms of population and area. The economic system here was completely under the control of Hindus. In 1905, on the recommendation of Lord Curzon, the then Viceroy of India, the British Parliament divided Bengal into two parts to improve its administration. According to the British, it was not possible for a governor to properly manage such a large and vast province. This division of Bengal resulted in two provinces i.e., East Bengal and West Bengal.

Impact of Partition of Bengal:

- Division of Bengal had different effects on Hindus and Muslims. The Muslims were very happy with this partition because there was a majority of Muslims in East Bengal, which became a new province.
- The economic and financial system of Bengal was completely under the control of the Hindus. The Hindus were unhappy with this division.

Hindus' Reaction to Partition of Bengal:

The Hindus refused to accept the Partition of Bengal and called for the abolition of this Partition and started the following movements:

- Hindus started a non-cooperation movement.
- A boycott of English goods was announced.
- Hindus stopped paying taxes.
- Eventually Hindus resorted to violence.

Annulment the Partition of Bengal:

Under the circumstance, the British Government, surrendered at least annulled the partition of Bengal in 1911. The annulment of Bengal caused sev

Conclusion:

For the first time since the Partition of Bengal and the failure of the War of Independence of 1857 in the subcontinent, Muslims have found a conducive environment. Which was ending the monopoly of the Hindus. But due to the tricks of the Hindus, the British government had to cancel the partition of Bengal. This decision shocked the Muslims.

SHORT QUESTIONS

Q.1 Explain the reasons for the partition of Bengal?

(K.B)

Ans: PARTITION OF BENGAL

In 1905, on the recommendation of Lord Curzon, Viceroy of India, the British Parliament approved the partition of Bengal. The reasons for this division were as follows:

Ans: THE MIGRATION (HIJRAT) MOVEMENT

In 1920, some scholars issued a fatwa stating that the subcontinent was "Dar-ul-Harb". It is not permissible for Muslims to remain under British rule. They should migrate to Dar-ul-Salaam. As a result, thousands of Muslim families sold their property and migrated to Afghanistan. Afghanistan did not allow them to enter their country and forced them to return to their country. When these stranded Muslims returned, there was nothing for them but ruin.

NEHRU REPORT 1928 FOURTEEN POINTS OF QUAID-E-AZAM 1929

LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Write fourteen points of Quaid-e-Azam. (Ex. Q No: 2)(K.B)

Ans:

DEFINITION OF IDEOLOGY

Background / Nehru Report:

In 1928, an All Parties Conference was convened and a committee chaired by Pandit Moti Lal Nehru drafted the Constitution of India. This constitutional draft was called the "Nehru Report". The agreement undid Lucknow Pact. The Nehru Report did not take into account Muslims. The provisions of the Nehru Report attempted to infringe on the rights of Muslims and rejected the principle of separate elections, refusing to accept all the reservations that Muslims considered essential for their development and survival. Relations between nations deteriorated.

FOURTEEN POINTS OF THE QUID-E-AZAM 1929

Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah refused to accept the Nehru Report. At the All India Muslim League meeting in Delhi in 1929, he presented a response to the Nehru Report in fourteen points which is a milestone in the movement of Pakistan. He presented the following fourteen point guiding principles:

Autonomy to the provinces:

The form of the future constitution should be federal with greater autonomy to the provinces.

Internal autonomy to the provinces:

A uniform measure of autonomy should be granted to all provinces.

Representation of minorities:

Adequate and effective representation should be given to the minorities in the provinces.

Number of Muslim members:

In the central Legislature, Muslim representation should not be less than one third.

Separate election method:

The principle of separate election should apply to each community. However, if any community wants, it can choose the method of mixed election on its free will.

Changes in the boundaries of the provinces:

No changes should be carried out in the territorial limits of the provinces, which may affect the Muslim majority in the Punjab, Bengal and NWF Province (Presently Khyber Pakhtunkhwa).

Equal religious freedom:

Equal religious liberty should be guaranteed to all communities.

Draft of law:

No bill or resolution should be passed in any legislature if three fourth of the members of any community in that particular body oppose such a bill.

Sindh a separate province:

Sindh should be separated from Bombay to make it a province.

Implementation of reforms:

Reforms should be introduced in the NWF Province (Presently Khyber Pakhtunkhwa) and Balochistan on the same lines as in other provinces.

Participation in government jobs:

Muslims should given an adequate share in all the government services with due regard to their eligibility and proportion.

Religious and cultural protection:

Muslims should get adequate safeguards for the protection of their religion and culture.

Representation in Ministries:

Muslims should have at least one third representation in all provincial and central ministries.

Changes to the Constitution:

No changes should be made in the constitution without the concurrence of the provinces. After an analysis of the Fourteen Points of the Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah it would not be out of place to say that Quaid-e-Azam not only protected the political rights of the Muslims but also provided the structure of the constitutional reforms in India.

Conclusion:

Analyzing the fourteen point of Quaid-E-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah. It is not unreasonable to say that Quaid-E-Azam Ali Jinnah it would not only represented the political rights of Muslims but also provided the basic framework for constitutional reforms in India. Although Muhammad Ali Jinnah's points were not accepted by the Congress, in the opinion of the observers, he interpreted the interests and rights of the Muslims of India and tried to convince the British garment that the Congress was merely. It thanks only of the welfare of Hindus and their majority, while it does not care about the rights of Indian minorities, especially Muslims. These were the fourteen basic point that could truly protect the rights and interests of Muslims within India. And these Points were duly welcomed by all sections off thought.

ALLAMA MUHAMMAD IQBAL ALLAHABAD 1930

LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Write Allama Iqbal's famous Allahabad Address. (K.B)

Ans: ALLAHABAD ADDRESS

In 1930, the annual meeting of the Muslim League was held in Allahabad. It was presided over by Dr. Sir Muhammad Iqbal. In his presidential address, he elaborated on the situation in India, the plight of Muslims, their future and the destiny of Muslims in India. The Muslims of the subcontinent wanted their separate identity to be recognized.

Demand for separate state:

The Muslims could not tolerate that their religious, political and social rights should be usurped. Therefore, they demanded a separate homeland. Allama Iqbal address at Allahabad was a chain in this regard.

Address of Allama Iqbal:

Allama Muhammad Iqbal in his address presented the demand for a separate country as follows: I would like to see the Punjab, the North-West Frontier Province, Sindh and Balochistan amalgamated into a single state. Whether India gets independence within the British empire or outside it, the formation of a consolidated North-West Muslim state appears to me to be the final destiny of the Muslims of at least North-West India."

The concept of a separate state:

Quaid-e-Azam had desired to see the Muslims of the subcontinent emerging as an effective force. Allama Muhammad Iqbal, advanced this concept of a separate state.

Concept of Pakistan:

In 1933, Chaudhry Rehmat Ali named this dream of Allama Muhammad Iqbal for separate homeland as Pakistan.

Reins of Muslim League:

Quaid-e-Azam took over the reins of the Muslim League in 1934 and made the party strong and active for the political stability of the Muslims.

Conclusion:

The purpose is that Allama Muhammad Iqbal in his famous address Allahabad presented to the Muslims the idea of a political stability and a separate state as it was put into practice on 14 August 1947.

ACT OF 1935 AND PROVINCIAL AUTONOMY
AND LAHORE RESOLUTION 1940

LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 What was the effect of the Congress victory in the elections under the 1935 constitution and provincial autonomy of the Muslims. (K.B)

Ans: ACT OF 1935 AND PROVINCIAL AUTONOMY

Following the failure of the Round Table Conference, the British government introduced a new constitution in the subcontinent in 1935 to establish a governmental structure in India, giving priority to provincial autonomy and enforcing only the part to which it belonged. From the establishment of provincial governments. This is known as the "Law of India Act 1935". The law had two parts.

- Federal part
- Provincial share

Part of the central government was rejected first by the Muslim League and then by the Congress. Elections were held in 1937 under the constitution.

Congressional Government:

in these elections, the Congress won a clear majority and the Hindus came to power. He fully demonstrated his mentality, Politics. Narrow-mindedness and extremism. He also expressed his intentions for the future. Here is a description of what they did:

- In order to gain a majority of Muslim.
- Hindus tried to impose religious restrictions on Muslims in this regard.

- Began to make noise outside mosques.
- Jobs were closed to Muslims.
- Attempts were made to replace Urdu with Hindi in schools.
- Emphasis was placed on worshipping the idol of Gandhi.
- Muslim children were told to put tilak on their foreheads.
- Muslims were forced to sing hate speech against them.

Demand for separate country:

Due to the above reasons, the Muslims of India became confused and began to see their separate identity in danger. Besides, such conditions were being created. Where they were also being forced to accept the savagery of their longtime slavers. For which the Muslims did not agree at any cost. The 1937 elections nothing short of a whip for the Muslims. Seeing this attitude, the Muslims' demand for a separate country increased, and the struggle for it intensified.

Title of Quaid-E-Azam

In 1938. At the annual meeting of the Muslims league at Patna, Muhammad Ali Jinnah was conferred the title of Quaid-E-Azam.

Day of Deliverance:

When the Congress ministries were abolished in 1939, at the Request of Quaid-E-Azam and the Muslims League. Muslims celebrated the Day of Deliverance on December 22, 1939.

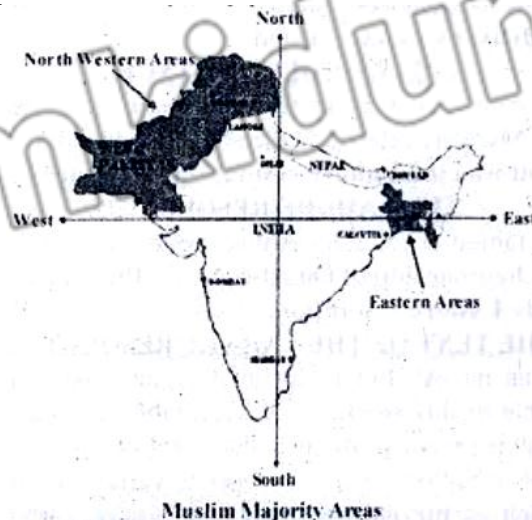

LAHORE RESOLUTION 1940

The resolution was tabled at the 27th Annual Meeting of the Muslim league on March 23, 1940 under the chairmanship of Quaid-E-Azam Presented by A.K. Fazal-Ul-Haq.

In his presidential address. Quaid-E-Azam elaborated on the political issues of Muslims and the two-nation ideology.

Test of the Resolution

It was decided that the All India Muslim League is of the unanimous opinion that no constitutional plan will be workable in this country and acceptable to the Muslims unless it is prepared in the light of the following basic principles i.e. The demarcation should be done in regions (with appropriate variability in areas) where Muslims are in the majority, such as the northwestern and eastern parts of India. They should be formed in the form of independent state so that the constituent units are independent and have full power. In addition, the rights of minorities in these units and regions should be taken care of and their rights and interests should be adequately protected in the areas where Muslims are minority.

Hindu reaction:

Gandhi and Hindus opposed the resolution. The British press called the resolution Jinnah's Pakistan. Hindu newspapers and journalists mocked the Lahore Resolution and called it the Pakistan Resolution, which history proved true. Only seven years after this resolution, the Muslims of the subcontinent formed Pakistan as a result of their struggle.

Conclusion:

In the elections held under the 1935 constitution, Muslims won and adopted its own policies, which matured the bi-national ideology of the Muslims and the concept of a single nation was automatically eradicated due to the oppression and violence of the Hindus. Paved its way through this Congress era and made the political journey of the Muslims clear by unanimously passing the Lahore Resolution.

CRIPPS MISSION 1942

LONG QUESTIONS

- Q.1 Write a detail note on Cripps Mission. (K.B)

Ans:

CRIPPS MISSION

During Second World war (1939-45), the British Government set Sir Stafford Cripps to the subcontinent who tried to have a consensus of all the political parties on some proposals, but he failed.

Proposals of Cripps Mission:

Cripps Mission offered the following proposals:

Status of Dominant:

After the war, the subcontinent will be under the British Crown but the British Government would avoid interfering in its internal as well as external affairs.

Autonomy of Subcontinent:

All institutions including Defense, Foreign Affairs, Communications etc. will be handed over to the Indians.

Formation of Central Assembly:

The members of the Provincial Legislative Assemblies will elect a Central Assembly for framing constitution. After the constitution if finalized, it will be sent to all the provinces for confirmation. The provinces which do not approve the constitution would have the authority to establish their independent status after separation from the centre.

Security of Minorities:

Appropriate steps will be taken to safeguard minorities' rights.

Reaction of Political Parties:

Sir Stafford Cripp's proposal were rejected by Muslim League, All Indian National Congress and other Parties.

Demand of Muslims:

The attainment of a separate homeland remained the major demand of the Muslims, which was unacceptable to the Congress. For this, the Muslims had to step up their struggle. In 1945, the Wavell Plan was presented which was strongly opposed by Quaid-e-Azam. Quaid-e-Azam tried to prove Muslim League as the only representative party of the Muslims but the Congress refused to accept it.

Conclusion:

The British Government under America pressure prepared the Cripps proposals. The Government was not willing to agree to the demands of Indian National Congress. On the other hand, Congress could not support the proposals. The effort proved futile but from Muslim point of view, it was a step towards partition.

SIMLA CONFERENCE AND ELECTIONSLONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Write a note on Simla Conference 1945 and how did the results of 1945-46 elections benefits for Muslim? (K.B)

Ans: SIMLA CONFERENCE AND ELECTIONS

Background:

In 1945, when Britain was sure to win the war, Viceroy Lord Wavel announced that the Viceroy's Executive Council will include all Indian members. To analyse these proposals, Simla Conference was held in 1945. This is called Simla Conference.

Main Points of Simla Conference:

The Main Points of Simla Conference are as follow:

Representation According to Population:

Viceroy Executive Council will include all Indian members and the Political Parties would be represented in it on the basis of population.

Muslim Members:

Five Muslim members were to be included in the Council but the Congress demanded that only one Muslim representative be nominated.

Demand of Muslim League:

Quaid-e-Azam did not accept it and said that Muslim League being the representatives of Muslims would nominate al the five Muslim representatives.

Representative Party of Muslims:

While the Simla Conference could not decide that the Muslim League was the only representative party of the Muslims, this issue was decided in 1945-46 elections. The Muslim League achieved success and emerged as the sole representative party of Muslims by winning all reserved seats for the Muslims.

Failures of Simla Conference:

The Simla Conference failed to resolve the nomination of Muslim Members issue.

ELECTIONS 1945-46Background:

After the failure of Simla Conference, it was necessary to estimate the position of political parties in the eyes of the people and which party can run the future of the subcontinent. In these circumstances, in order to discover the public trends, the British Government announced of holding the General Elections. It was decided that the Central Legislature lections would be held in December, 1945. It was decided that the provincial legislature elections would held in January, 1946. All the political parties of India announced to contest the elections.

Manifesto of Muslim League:

Quaid-e-Azam affirmed that the General Elections will prove plebiscite regarding Pakistan. If the Muslims stood with the Muslim League, it meant they wanted Pakistan, otherwise the demand should be considered as rejected. Muslim League stepped in the arena of elections claiming that it was the only representative of the Muslims of Sub continent. Although there existed some other Muslim parties, yet none of them represented the majority of the Muslims. Muslim League wanted the partition of South Asia in accordance with the Pakistan Resolution. So the Muslims could have full authority in the areas having Muslims in majority.

Results of the Elections:

The Central Legislature elections were held in December, 1945. These elections were held on the basis of separate electorates. Thirty seats were reserved for the Muslims throughout the Sub continent. Candidates of Muslim League won the election on all the thirty reserved seats. Thus Muslim League got cent percent success. The Provincial Legislature elections were held in 1946. In all the Provincial Legislatures, altogether 492 seats were reserved for the Muslims. Muslim League captured 428 seats. This Muslim League got splendid victory at provincial level too.

Conclusion:

Many political parties had supported Congress in election, but Muslim League defeated them all. The results of the elections strengthened the foundation of Pakistan. No power in the world could stop the creation of Pakistan now.

SHORT QUESTIONS

CABINET MISSION PLAN 1946

LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Write the salient feature of the Cabinet Mission Plan 1946. (K.B)

Ans: CABINET MISSION PLAN 1946

Background:

The Labour Party came into power in England in 1945. The British Government sent a Cabinet Mission to India due to the rising political restlessness in the subcontinent. The Mission consisted of three members. This mission had two fundamental objectives.

- First to determine the constitutional position and the form of Government.
- Secondary to reduce the hatred between the Hindus and the Muslims and keep them together in the united India. But the elections proved that this could not be done.

Members of the Cabinet Mission:

The Commission consisted of three Ministers:

- Sir Stafford Cropps
- Mr. AV. Alexander
- Lord Pethic Lawrence

Since all the members belonged to British cabinet, it was called Cabinet Mission.

Meeting with Political Leader:

The members of the Cabinet Mission met with the leaders of all the political parties but failed to achieve the desirable results.

Announcement of Cabinet Mission Plan:

These members announced a plan on 16th May 1946, with following salient features:

Subcontinent a Union:

A union would be established in the subcontinent which would be responsible for the foreign affairs, defense, communications and transportation.

Powers of Provinces:

All powers except central affairs would be given to the provinces.

Formation of Groups:

The provinces would have the mandate to form mutual groups and every group could frame its own constitution.

Changing in Constitution:

The provinces would have the authority to demand amendments in the constitution, through majority opinion, after every 10 years.

Direct Action Day:

On 16th August 1946. Muslim League decided to observe Yaum-e-Rast Iqdam (Direct Action Day) at the national level, because the Hindus were dreaming of ruling the subcontinent after the departure of the British. On that day, the processions were held everywhere in which the evil designs of the Congress were exposed.

Conclusion:

As an immediate reaction, the Politicians of Congress liked the Cabinet Mission Plan much. Common members of Congress celebrated in streets and Bazaars. Nehro said that the Plan had buried the Pakistan of Jinnah.

Ans: CABINET MISSION

Noticing the increasing political restlessness in India, the British Prime Minister, and Lord Atlee sent a Cabinet Mission to India in 1946.

Q.3 Describe the objectives of Cabinet Mission. (K.B)

Ans: OBJECTIVES OF CABINET MISSION

This mission had two basic objective purposes:

- The first purpose was to determine the constitutional status of India and the formation of the Government.
- The second purpose was to bridge the gap between the Muslims and the Hindus, and try to convince the Muslims to live in the United India. But the General Elections proved that it was quite impossible.

Q.4 Write the proposals of Cabinet Mission Plan. (K.B)

Ans: PROPOSALS OF CABINET PLAN

The proposals of Cabinet Mission Plan are as follow:

- A union would be established in the subcontinent which would be responsible for the foreign affairs, defense, communications and transportation.

- All powers except central affairs would be given to the provinces.
- The provinces would have the mandate to form mutual groups and every group could frame its own constitution.
- The provinces would have the authority to demand amendments in the constitution, through majority opinion, after every 10 years.

Q.5 When and why did Quaid-e-Azam announce the “Direct Action Day”? (K.B)

INTERIM GOVERNMENT

LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Write the detail note on Interim Government 1946-47. (K.B)

Ans: INTERIM GOVERNMENT 1946-47

Background:

In September 1946 the Viceroy should have invited Muslim League to form interim Government because Muslim League had accepted the whole of the Plan. It was stated in the Plan that if any major political party agrees to the Plan, it will be implemented. But this could not be done.

Participation in Interim Government:

It was thought in the Muslim League Council that it should not be the Re-play of the period of the rule of Congress Ministries 1937-39, because it happened so, the Hindus will inflict atrocities and cruelties on the Muslims. Moreover, it seemed that the British were going to quit India, and in these circumstances, of Congress had its monopoly, the Muslims would have to suffer a lot of problems.

Ministers of Muslim League:

The five ministers from Muslim League were as under:

- Liaquat Ali Khan
- Abdur Rab Nishtar
- Ibrahim Ismail Chundrigar
- Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan
- Jogendra Nath Mandal

Failure of Interim Government:

The Interim Government could not perform effectively due to differences between the Congress and the Muslim League. Under these circumstances, the demand of the Muslims for a separate homeland under two nation theory further strengthened.

End of Britain Era:

The British Prime Minister announced on 20th February 1947 that the Government would hand over the power to the elected representatives by June 1948. Thus, establishment of Pakistan drew closer.

Conclusion:

On 16th August 1946, Muslim League decided to observe Yaum-e-Rast Iqdam (Direct Action Day) at the national level, because the Hindus were dreaming of ruling the subcontinent after the departure of the British. On that day, the processions were held everywhere in which the evil designs of the Congress were exposed.

3RD JUNE PLAN, 1947LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 State the salient points of June 3, 1947. Also, how was the Red Cliff Award used in the partition of the subcontinent? (GRW 2016, LHR 2016)(K.B)

Ans: THE PLAN OF JUNE 3, 1947

Background:

Lord Wavell, as Viceroy, did not make the Wavell Plan a success, nor did he succeed in the mission plan. Attempts were made to implement half of the cabinet mission plan in order to please the Congress, i.e. not to form provincial groups and to implement the interim government and constitution-making process. The Quaid-e-Azam expeditiously allowed the Muslim League to participate in the interim government but decided to boycott the sessions of the Constituent Assembly. The Quaid-e-Azam wanted the whole plan to be implemented.

Thus the constitution-drafting process could not continue and the British government, frustrated by the circumstances, decided to take a new path. In order to carry out the final phase of the transfer of power, the British government sent Lord Mountbatten as Viceroy of India in March 1947, replacing Lord Wavell to complete the partition of the subcontinent.

Announcing the division of the subcontinent:

On 3rd June 1947, the plan for the partition of the subcontinent was announced whereby the power was to be handed over to the representatives of India by 14th August 1947.

Province of Punjab and Bengal:

The 3rd June 1947 plan also had a clause that separate sessions of the Muslim and the Hindu members of the assemblies of Punjab and Bengal would be held. It was also decided that the provinces would be partitioned and a Commission would decide the new boundaries of provinces.

Province of Sindh:

It was also decided that Sindh Assembly would decide the future status of the province through the majority vote. The Sindh Assembly decided to join Pakistan.

NWFP and Sylhet:

The people of NWFP and Sylhet would decide through plebiscite whether to join Pakistan or India.

Balochistan:

Shahi Jirgah would decide the future of Balochistan.

Indian Independence Act 1947:

To execute the 3rd June plan, the British Government passed the Indian Independence Bill on 16th July 1947 whereby India was divided into two states Pakistan and India.

Radcliffe Award:

In the Partition of India plan, it was decided to set up a Boundary Commission for demarcation of Punjab and Bengal. Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah was of the opinion that an experienced judge of the Privy Council would be selected for this critical responsibility. On the contrary, on June 3, 1947, Searle Radcliffe, a well-known lawyer in London, was given the job. Rad Cliff, before 1947, has never visited India. The virtue of his choice was that Radcliffe would be able to meet the requirements of neutrality as he had no direct involvement with the political leadership in India. However, it was equally important to ignore the fact that Radcliffe was completely unfit for this important responsibility due to his complete ignorance of the political, historical, geographical and cultural conditions of India. The government decided to divide the subcontinent. Recognizing the principled position of the two states, the government worked out the details and worked out a plan of action for the future from different provinces and states.

Distribution of Punjab:

For the demarcation of the boundaries of Punjab and Bengal, two Boundary Commissions were constituted under the joint Chairmanship of Sir Cyril Radcliffe. For the demarcation of Punjab Mr. Justice Muhammad Munir and Mr. Justice Din Muhammad represented Pakistan, while Justice Mehr Chand Mahajan and Mr. Justice Teja Singh represented India. All those gentlemen were judges of the high court.

Partition of Bengal:

When the partition of Bengal was decided, the British government set up a boundary commission headed by Sir Rad Cliff. Justice Abu Saleh Muhammad Akram and S. A. Rahman was. C. C. Biswas and B. K. Mukherjee from India.

Rad Cliff's Injustices:

At the time of partition, the Viceroy and his staff connived with the Congress and demarcated the boundary according to their wishes and used Radcliffe as a rubber stamp.

- Radcliffe award included many Muslim majority areas in India
- Deprived Pakistan from the waters of Sutlej, Bias and Ravi.
- Frontier of India extended to Kashmir.

Kashmir issue:

India occupied Kashmir through Gurdaspur. Thus the Kashmir issue arose which has not been resolved till date.

Poor planning of Rad Cliff:

Due to poor planning of Rad Cliff, Pakistan had to face many problems.

Dawn of Freedom

The concept of independence has a great significance for the nations. Pakistan came into being as independent state on 14th August 1947 (27th Ramadan). Quaid-e- Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah was the first Governor General of Pakistan.

Outcome:

The plan of 3rd June 1947 Plan, devised a plan of action to divide the subcontinent into two parts, with the Delimitation Commission and the referendum at the center. Worked out.

SHORT QUESTIONS

Q.1 When did the British government announce the end of British rule in the subcontinent?(K.B)

Ans: END OF BRITISH RULE

Ans: INDIAN INDEPENDENCE ACT

To execute the 3rd June plan, the British Government passed the Indian Independence Bill on 18th July 1947 whereby India was divided into two states Pakistan and India.

Q.6 Who were the members of the boundary commission formed for the province of Punjab?(K.B)

Ans: PUNJAB BOUNDARY COMMISSION

The members of the delimitation commission formed for the province of Punjab are as follows:

- Sir Rad Cliff, a British lawyer, was made the head of the boundary commission for Punjab.
- Justice Muhammad Munir and Justice Din Muhammad represented Pakistan for the Punjab Boundary Commission.
- Justice Mehr Chand Mahajan and Justice Teja Singh represented India for the Punjab Boundary Commission.

Q.7 Who were the members of the delimitation commission formed for the province of Bengal?(K.B)

Ans: BANGAL BOUNDARY COMMISSION

The members of the Boundary Commission for the Province of Bengal are as follows:

- Sir Rad Cliff, a British lawyer, was made the head of the Boundary Commission for Bengal.
- On behalf of the Muslims, Justice Abu Saleh Muhammad Akram and Justice S.A Rehman.
- On behalf of non-Muslims Justice C. C. Biswas and Justice B.K Mukherjee.

Q.8 How did Pakistan face the Kashmir issue due to Radcliffe injustice? (K.B)

Ans: THE KASHMIR ISSUE

In the partition, the Red Cliff annexed several Muslim-majority areas of East Punjab to India, depriving Pakistan from the waters of the Sutlej, Beas and Ravi on the on the other hand, and the Indian border with Kashmir on the other. India occupied Kashmir via Gurdaspur. Thus the Kashmir issue arose which has not been resolved till date. Due to poor planning of Red Cliff, Pakistan had to face many problems.

ROLE OF QUAID-E-AZAM MUHAMMAD ALI JINNAH IN THE MAKING OF PAKISTAN WITH REFERENCE TO HIS POLITICAL AND CONSTITUTIONAL EFFORTS

LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Describe the role of Quaid-e-Azam in the making of Pakistan with reference to his political and constitutional efforts. (Ex. Q No:3)(K.B)

Ans: ROLE OF QUAID-E-AZAM IN THE MAKING OF PAKISTAN

Introduction:

Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah was born on 25th December, 1876 in Karachi. He began to take part in politics, during his stay in England. He joined the Congress at first. At that time, he was a staunch supporter of the Hindu Muslim Unity. He was also called the Ambassador of the Hindu Muslim Unity.

Members of the Viceroy's Council:

In 1909, "the Minto Morley Reforms", were implemented in India. The number of members of the Viceroy's Council was also increased form sixteen to twenty-eight. The Muslims of Mumbai elected Quaid-e-Azam Muhamad Ali Jinnah as their representative.

Quaid-e-Azam Join the Muslim League:

In 1913, he joined the Muslim League. The Muslim League, on his request, amended its constitution and made the self-government as the purpose of life. His states manly politics shook the roots of British rule. He left the Congress in 1920 due to its Anti Muslim policies.

Ambassador of Peace:

In December 1916, the Muslim League and the Congress agreed to hold simultaneous public meetings in Lucknow. The meeting of the Muslim League was chaired by Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah. He said in his address, "We do not want any rewards or concessions, nor are we desirous of any discriminatory political treatment". At this place, the two political parties signed a landmark agreement called "Lucknow Pact". At the same place, he was awarded the title of "Ambassador of the Hind Muslim Unity".

Resignation of Viceroy's Council:

In 1919, the British government passed the Rowlatt Act under which the government was granted the authority to arrest without warrant and trial. Under this law, any accused could be tried in camera without Judicial Review. Quaid-e-Azam opposed the Act and declared it unconstitutional. He resigned from the Viceroy's Council in protest.

Quaid-e-Azam's Stance on Rowlatt Act:

On this occasion, Quaid-e-Azam said: "I feel the government that passes or sanctions such a law in times of peace forfeits its claim to be called a civilized Government. "Nevertheless, I hope that Secretary of State for India will persuade the British government reject this black law."

Quaid-e-Azam's Fourteen Points:

In 1929, Quaid-e-Azam presented his famous fourteen points.

Participation of Round Table Conferences:

Three Round Table conferences were held in London from 1940 to 1932. Quaid-e-Azam attended the first two conferences. These conferences ended without any result.

Reaction on Government of India Act:

The British Government passed the Government of India Act, 1935, but it was disliked by both the Congress and the Muslim League. However, its provincial part was accepted on Quaid-e-Azam's resolution. Both parties participated in the general, elections of 1936-37.

President Ship of Muslim League:

In 1934, Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah returned home from England on the request of Allama Muhammad Iqbal and other prominent Muslim League leaders. He was given Presidents-ship of the Muslim League. He gathered the Muslims under its flag by working day and night. In 1940, the Muslim League's annual session was held in Lahore, in which the Muslims of India unanimously passed a resolution that, "the Muslims of India needed a separate territory in which they could spend their lives according to the principles of Islam, on the basis of their majority." The session was chaired by Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah.

Success in Elections:

The Muslim League met glorious success in the elections of 1945-46, and made it clear to the British and Hindus that the Muslim League was the only representative of Muslims of whole of India. Under his leadership, in these elections, the Muslim League got 100% success in the federal assembly and 90% in the provincial assemblies under the leadership of Quaid-e-Azam.

Cabinet Mission:

He strongly opposed the Cabinet Mission's proposals, under which the British wanted to hand over rule to congress. He made all the conspiracies of the Hindus and the British unsuccessful. The Cabinet Mission eventually had to admit that the Muslim League could not be ignored in any way.

First Governor General:

On 14 August 1947, Pakistan came into being. On August 15, 1947, Quaid-e-Azam took oath as first Governor General of this newly born Islamic sovereign state.

Illness of Quaid-e-Azam:

Shortly before the establishment of Pakistan, Quaid-e-Azam's health had deteriorated but he continued to work day and night.

Death of Quaid-e-Azam:

He never had a chance to rest. This further deteriorated his health. The disease intensified in July 1948 and finally he died on 11th September, 1948.

EARLY PROBLEMS OF PAKISTAN

LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Discuss the early problems. After establishment of Pakistan.

(Ex. Q No:4)(K.B)

Ans:

EARLY PROBLEMS OF PAKISTAN

Pakistan had to face many problems soon after its establishment. Some of them were:

RADCLIFFE AWARD

After the declaration of establishment of Pakistan, the Viceroy appointed the Boundary Commissions for Punjab and Bengal on June 30, 1947 to determine the boundaries of both the countries. Mr. Radcliffe, an English lawyer, was appointed chairman of both the commissions. He was also given the power of arbitration in case of disagreements. The decision that this commission made was called the Radcliffe Award.

Care of Congressmen:

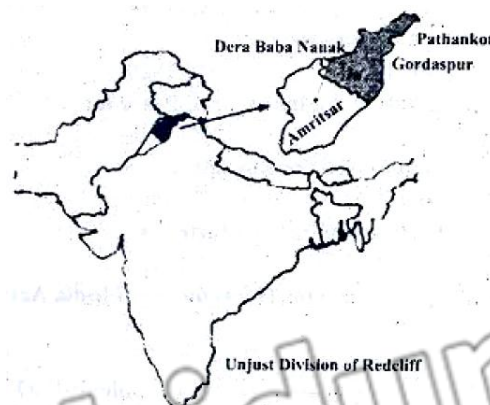

The announcement made about the borders in the Radcliffe Award did not meet the requirements of Justice. Mountbatten and Radcliffe took full care of congressmen and Hindu friendship.

Care of Congressmen:

The announcement made about the borders in the Radcliffe Award did not meet the requirements of Justice. Mountbatten and Radcliffe took full care of congressmen and Hindu friendship.

Kashmir Issue:

The Muslim majority areas adjoining Pakistan were handed over to India. She was granted access to the state of Jammu and Kashmir through inclusion of Muslim majority area of Gurdaspur in India. Thus, the Kashmir issue was created, which remains unresolved till today.

SETTLEMENT OF MIGRANTS

At the time of Independence of India and inception of Pakistan, it was not decided that the Hindus of Pakistan would go to India and the Muslims of India would go to Pakistan. It was understood that Muslim majority areas would be handed over to Pakistan where minorities would live under the shadow of the green flag with all the freedom.

Hindu Muslim Riots:

Hindu Muslim riots further added to the problems in the newly established state. In India, the settlements of peaceful Muslims were burnt to ashes. Bloodshed was caused and the Muslims were forcibly pushed into Pakistan.

A View of Migration

Difficulties in Rehabilitation:

Pakistan had to face significant difficulties in rehabilitation and resettlement of refugees coming from India. Millions of ruined people came to Pakistan after suffering enormous difficulties. The refugees also included the injured and the ill. They were kept in migrant camps.

Cholera:

Where cholera broke out. Many people died due to inadequate medical facilities.

Financial Help:

Although it was an enormous test for the newly born state, the Muslims generously supported their migrant brothers. They provided them food and clothing. Eventually, this difficult period passed.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROBLEMS

Karachi was declared the capital of Pakistan at the time of its establishment.

Temporary Offices:

Governor House and Secretariat buildings were evacuated for the central offices but their capacity was low, so temporary offices were established in different parts of the city. Even the Ministers were deprived of basic office facilities.

Lack of Experienced Staff:

The administrative structure was in a dismal state because there was no expert and experienced staff. A total of 81 Muslim officers from the civil service came to Pakistan as its share but most of them had no experience of senior posts.

Limited Office Record:

The central government's records and equipment could not reach Karachi because Hindus and Sikh rioters had destroyed the railway tracks on which the trains were supposed to reach Pakistan.

Refusal of Indian Airline:

Indian airlines refused to provide aeroplanes to Muslims on rent. There was no accommodation for the government employees who had managed to reach Pakistan. But they did not lose heart.

Management Skills:

They devoted their entire management skills to the nation and made Pakistan strong and stable.

ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

At the time of its creation, Pakistan had to face many economic problems too. Most of the areas of Pakistan were backward at the time of independence. Transportation and communication facilities were insufficient. The British and Hindus had deliberately kept the Muslim population areas backward. From here, the British used to recruit young men for army service, but did not feel the need to set up factories and mills there.

Factories and Banks:

- This maladministration can be gauged from the fact that 75% of the world's jute was produced in East Bengal but all the jute factories were in West Bengal and the Hindus had full control over them.
- At the time of partition, there were 394 textile mills in the United India but only 14 mills came to Pakistan's share.
- The total number of branches of the banks was 487 but Pakistan's share was only 69 and the Hindus took all the bank capital with them to India.

Conspiracy a Congress:

In fact, it was the conspiracy of the Congress to economically strangle Pakistan so that it may not survive. The Indian rulers were also unjust in the proper distribution of assets between Pakistan and India. They continued to avoid giving Pakistan its due share. They used every possible tactics to destroy the economy of Pakistan and withheld the agreed share of Pakistan's assets.

DISTRIBUTION OF MILITARY ASSETS

After the partition of the subcontinent, justice was not done in the distribution of military assets too.

Proportional Share of Army Assets:

The British Government had decided that according to the plan of June 3, 1947, all military assets would be divided with 64% to Pakistan.

Ordnance Factories:

There were 16 ordnance factories operating in the United India, but not a single one was there in the areas included in Pakistan. What to mention of shifting an ordnance factory into Pakistan, the Indian government was not willing even to shift a small part of machinery to Pakistan. After a long discussion, it was decided that Pakistan would be given Rs. 60 million to set up an ordnance factory of its own.

Reaction of Indian Government:

Indian government also rejected the formula for the distribution of ordinary military assets, which made the conditions even more complex. In this way, Pakistan was deprived of its due share.

AGRICULTURAL PROBLEMS

Pakistan is primarily an agricultural country, where agriculture is not possible without canal irrigation. At the time of partition of the subcontinent, important headworks on rivers and canals were also given to India, thus, giving her the control of our canals.

Problems of Distribution of River:

In order to destabilize Pakistan, India stopped water supply to Pakistan from Ferozepur (River Sutlej) and Madhupur, (River Ravi) headworks in April 1948. The motive behind this move was to make agricultural areas of Pakistan barren and destabilize it economically.

Indus Water Treaty:

Ultimately, the issue of water sharing between the two countries was resolved under the "Indus Water Treaty" 1960, the rights to the three eastern rivers, namely Ravi, Sutlej and Beal were given to India while exclusive rights to three western rivers, namely, Indus, Jhelum and Chenab were given to Pakistan.

7. POLITICAL PROBLEMS

At its creation, Pakistan had to face many political problems as well.

Affiliation of Princely States:

At the time of independence, several independent princely states declared their affiliation with Pakistan which included Manawadar, Dir, Swat and Junagarh etc.

Annexation of India:

India did not like the annexation of these states and occupied Junagarh on 9th November 1947. The same way, India occupied Kashmir at the end of 1947. Then on the death of the Quaid-e-Azam when the Pakistani nation was in grief, India occupied Hyderabad Deccan on 17 September 1948.

People of Kashmir Affiliated with Pakistan:

In this, India continued working against Pakistan's stability. The people of Kashmir wanted to affiliate with Pakistan. In this state of uncertainty, freedom movement stalled there resulting in the affiliation of Azad Kashmir with Pakistan.

Conclusion:

Historically Hindus created problems for Muslims for their Islam enmity. Hindus wanted that such a weak Pakistan was established that could not stand on its feet and it could be occupied, but in spite of above mentioned problems and a lot of hurdles the Muslims of Pakistan have been struggling with passion and spirit and by the grace of Allah Almighty, no one could damage Pakistan till today.

SHORT QUESTIONS

Q.1 What is meant by Radcliffe Award? (K.B)

Ans: RADCLIFFE AWARD

After the declaration of establishment of Pakistan, the Viceroy appointed the Boundary Commissions for Punjab and Bengal on June 30, 1947 to determine the boundaries of both the countries. CONSOLIDATION OF THE STATE AND MAKING OF CONSTITUTION 1947-56

PROCESS OF CONSTITUTION MAKING IN PAKISTAN

LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Write a note on Consolidation of the state and making of constitution of Pakistan.(K.B)

Ans: CONSOLIDATION STATE AND MAKING OF CONSTITUTION

The supreme constitution of Pakistan is called the "Constitution of Pakistan". The Constitution of Pakistan is the supreme law that determines all important things and decisions within the state of Pakistan. A special committee is formed to make the constitution which makes rules for every aspect of the constitution and important matters. The constitution makes laws for all major decisions of the state which constitute the government and the state as a whole.

Legislation:

Pakistan had to face difficulties in drafting the constitution from the very beginning. At the time to the formation of Pakistan, there was no constitution to run the affairs of the government. Therefore, the Government of India Act, 1935 was adopted with some amendments.

Federal system:

The 1935 constitution was not in line with the requirements and aspirations of the new state, so it was replaced by a constitution in line with national sentiments, under which the federal system was introduced.

Interim Constitution:

A meeting of the Constituent Assembly was convened on August 10, 1947 under the Interim Constitution.

CONSTITUTIONAL STAGES IN PAKISTAN

Early Problems:

After the approval of the objectives of the resolution, it was ensured that the country would be built on constitutional foundations and for this purpose a committee consisting of members of the Federal Assembly was also set up, but soon after independence Pakistan there were so many problems that the constitution could not be given full attention.

Instability and Incompetent Leadership:

Due to political instability and incompetent leadership, governments began to change rapidly. Due to which the work of drafting the constitution was in vain.

New Assembly:

In view of these circumstances, Governor General Ghulam Muhammad dissolved the Constituent Assembly on 24 October 1954 and announced the formation of a new Assembly.

One Unit:

One of the major obstacles to the constitution was that the western part of the country consisted of four provinces and the eastern part consisted of one province. To overcome this obstacle, the four provinces of West Pakistan were merged into one province and renamed One Unit.

Formation:

After the formation of the One Unit and the election of the Constituent Assembly, the task of drafting the constitution became much easier and the newly elected Prime Minister Chaudhry Muhammad Ali paid full attention to the task of drafting the constitution and completed it. The Federal Assembly approved the new constitution.

Conclusion:

The establishment of Pakistan had to face difficulties in drafting the constitution. There was no constitution to run the affairs of the government. The constitution-drafting process was fraught with many problems. ACCESSION OF STATES AND TRIBAL AREAS TO PAKISTANLONG QUESTIONS

- Q.1 Write a detail note on the accession of States and Tribal Areas to Pakistan. (K.B)

Ans:

ACCESSION TO PAKISTANBackground:

There were about 600 indigenous states in the subcontinent that had semi-autonomy. After the announcement of the plan on June 3, 1947, these states had to join either Pakistan or India, depending on their geographical location, population and religion. Some of these states are described below:

STATE OF JAMMU & KASHMIRLocation of Jammu and Kashmir:

The state of Jammu and Kashmir is located in the far north of the subcontinent, which is considered to be the center of mainland Asia. When Pakistan was formed in 1947, the rulers of the states were given the right to join either India or Pakistan.

Betrayal of Raja Hari Singh:

Kashmir was inhabited by an overwhelming majority of Muslims who wanted to annex Pakistan but Raja Hari Singh, the Hindu ruler of Kashmir, fled to India and annexed it to India against the aspirations of the people of Kashmir. He tried to seize it illegally by sending it to Kashmir.

Azad Jammu and Kashmir:

When India occupied Kashmir in 1948, the disgruntled Kashmiris declared jihad and the Kashmiri Mujahideen liberated the area of present-day Azad Jammu and Kashmir from India.

Promise of Plebiscite Vote:

India took the issue to the United Nations. The United Nations declared a ceasefire between India and Pakistan. The United Nations unanimously adopted in its resolutions that the decision on Kashmir would be taken by referendum in accordance with the aspirations of the Kashmiri people.

Invitation to Talks:

The Kashmir issue is a central issue between India and Pakistan without which the peace and development of the region is in jeopardy. Although Pakistan has at every opportunity invited India to resolve this issue through dialogue, India has always been reluctant to do so.

Nuclear war threat:

Pakistan and India are now both nuclear powers. If war breaks out again on this issue, it could turn into a nuclear war.

HYDERABAD DECCAN STATE

At the time of partition of the subcontinent, it was called the ruling system. There was a majority of Hindus. It was a separate state in British India, covering an area of 86,000 square miles. The system wanted to keep its state independent. In 1948, Indian forces overthrew the regime and occupied the state. Hyderabad Deccan is the joint capital of present day southern Indian states of Andhra Pradesh and Telangana.

JUNAGARH STATE

At the time of Partition of India, Nawab Muhammad Mahabat Khan of this state announced the annexation of the state of Junagarh to Pakistan. It was also approved by the government of Pakistan. In 1947, Indian forces invaded and occupied the state of Junagarh.

MANAVADAR STATE

At the time of Partition of India, the ruler of this state was a Muslim. It announced the annexation of its state to Pakistan. The state was located near Junagarh. Junagarh was already occupied by Indian forces. Taking advantage of this, the Indian forces also captured the state of Manavadar.

SWAT STATE KHAIRPUR STATE AND BAHAWALPUR STATE

- The state of Swat has its own history as an independent state during the Mughal Empire and its local rulers were known as Akhunds. It was a Nawabi state until 1947 after the Mughal period. At the time of the formation of Pakistan, the Akhund there announced its accession to Pakistan.
- The state of Khairpur was founded in 1783 by Mir Sohrab Khan Talpur. In 1955, it was annexed to Pakistan.
- The state of Bahawalpur was founded in 1690 by Bahadur Khan Abbasi II Nawab Muhammad Bahawal Khan III made the first treaty with the British government which made the state of Bahawalpur independent. Swat, Khairpur and Bahawalpur joined Pakistan.

TRIBAL AREAS

The tribal areas cover an area of 27,220 square kilometers. After the declaration of Pakistan, the tribal areas were separate from the four provinces and remained under the administration of the federation. In 2018, these areas were merged into Khyber Pakhtunkhwa.

Conclusion:

The above states annexed Pakistan but India occupied these states by its cunning and cunning.

AYUB KHAN ERA, 1958-1969LONG QUESTION

Q.1 What were the main causes of General Ayub Khan's Martial Law? Explain. (Ex Q No: 6)(K.B)

Ans: REASONS FOR MARTIAL LAW.

Introduction:

The first Governor General of Pakistan was Quaid-e-Azam. After the death of Quaid-e-Azam, the country slowly fell into the hands of the bureaucracy. Finally, in 1958, the Pakistan Army took over the management of the country. In October 1958, General Ayub Khan removed Sikandar Maraz and imposed martial law on the following grounds. The main reasons for General Ayub Khan's Martial Law (1958) were as follows:

LACK OF POLITICAL LEADERSHIP

The formation of Pakistan on August 14, 1947 was the result of the historic struggle of millions of Muslims on the subcontinent and the selfless leadership of Muslim leaders. Unfortunately, one year after the establishment of Pakistan, the founder of Pakistan, Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah, passed away. In 1951, Quaid-e-Millat Liaquat Ali Khan was martyred. Thus, soon after independence, the fledgling country lost patriotic, resourceful and far-sighted leaders like Quaid-e-Azam and Liaquat Ali Khan. After the departure of these leaders, a crisis of political leadership arose in Pakistan.

Incompetent Leaders:

Now the reins of the country are in the hands of leaders who have not been able to create the desired national unity or overcome the provincial, linguistic and economic crises.

DELAY IN ELECTIONS

One of the main reasons for taking Pakistan out of the political crisis was the postponement of elections. Initially, the country did not hold general elections. Only in the provinces were elections held alternately.

Constitutional approval:

After the adoption of the 1956 constitution, it was expected that elections would be held within a year, but in 1957 the expected elections were postponed until 1959.

ROLE OF BUREAUCRACY

The bureaucracy also played a role in thwarting democracy in the country after the formation of Pakistan. Governor General Ghulam Muhammad, Sikandar Mirza and Chaudhry Muhammad Ali also belonged to the civil service. The bureaucracy as a whole behaved irresponsibly. The fact is that the lust for power arose in the hearts of those who were most influential in the civil service. This situation paved the way for martial law.

From August 14, 1947 to October 7, 1958, Pakistan had a parliamentary system. In the first eleven years, the system failed miserably.

Political instability:

The failure of the parliamentary system can be gauged from the fact that in these 11 years, seven ministries were formed under four Governor Generals. Among them was the shortest ministry of Mr. I.I. Chander, which lasted only two months. As a result of this political instability, the country fell victim to economic and political crisis. These circumstances encouraged the implementation of martial law.

Both Pakistan and India became independent at the same time. India drafted its constitution in two and a half years but Pakistani politicians kept hanging on to this important issue. Eventually the situation became such that martial law was enforced.

Conclusion:

The above were all the reasons why Ayub Khan's elected government had to be overthrown and the 1958 martial law had to be enforced and the first martial law was introduced in Pakistan. Ayub Khan ruled for about 10 years.

SHORT QUESTIONS

Q.1 How did the lack of political leadership in Pakistan arise in 1958? (K.B)

Ans: LACK OF POLITICAL LEADERSHIP

The formation of Pakistan on August 14, 1947 was the result of the historic struggle of millions of Muslims on the subcontinent and the selfless leadership of Muslim leaders. BASIC DEMOCRACIES SYSTEM 1959LONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Describe the salient features of Basic Democracies System.

(Ex Q No: 7)(U.B+K.B)
(LHR 2014, RWP 2016)

Ans: BASIC DEMOCRACIES SYSTEM 1959

Political Awareness:

General Ayub Khan had taken over the management of the country by imposing martial law. He had been watching politics closely for a long time as he was participating in the affairs of state as the Minister of Defense, so he was aware of the political situation in the country. He himself was a supporter of the presidential system in which the president had wide powers. In 1959, President Ayub Khan introduced a new system of basic democracies under which the people had to elect members of basic democracies. The total number of members of the basic democracies was 80,000. Under the 1962 constitution, these members also had the status of an electoral body for the election of the President, members of the Provincial and Central Assemblies.

Basic Democracies System:

With this in mind, in 1959, General Ayub Khan decided to introduce four-tier basic democracies. This four-tier system consists of the following:

- Union Council
- Tehsil Council
- District Council
- Division Council

UNION COUNCIL / TOWN COMMITTEE

Union councils in large rural towns and town committees in small towns were the first destinations of basic democracies. Each union council consisted of several villages. And it represented a population of five thousand to ten thousand. One member represented every one thousand people. Representatives of the union council elected a chairman.

Duties:

In small towns, town committee members were elected. Each union council and town committee performed collective development duties in their area.

TEHSIL COUNCIL / THANA COUNCIL

The second floor of the system of basic democracies was called Thana Council and Tehsil Council. Each police station and tehsil council coordinated the activities of the union councils within its boundaries.

Tehsil Council:

In West Pakistan, the chairman of the Tehsil Council was a Tehsildar. The chairmen of all the union councils in the tehsil were members of the tehsil council.

Thana Council:

Similarly, in East Pakistan, each Thana council consisted of the chairmen of all the union councils and town committees of the towns and its chairman was a sub-divisional officer.

DISTRICT COUNCIL

The district council was the third important destination of the basic democratic system. It consisted of elected chairmen of district-wide union councils, town committees and union committees, chairmen of municipal committees and vice-presidents of cantonment boards and government officials. Half of the members of each district council were nominated. The District Deputy Commissioner or Collector was the Chairman of the District Council.

DIVISIONAL COUNCIL

The Division Council was the final destination of the basic democracy. Each Divisional Council consisted of official (nominated) and elected members. The Chairmen of the District Councils were ex-officio members of the Divisional Council. The Divisional Commissioner was ex-officio the Chairman of the Divisional Council. The Divisional Council coordinated the activities of its subordinate cantonment boards and local bodies.

Duties:

The Divisional Council formulated development schemes for the division and implemented the directives issued by the government.

IMPORTANCE OF SYSTEM

The purpose of this system was to solve people's problems at the public level. In this system, public representatives were elected at the village and neighborhood level. These public representatives were well aware of the problems in their area and were accountable to the people.

Social Welfare:

With the establishment of this system, attention was paid to the basic problems of the people and plans were launched for their social and welfare welfare.

Conducting Elections:

General Ayub issued the Order of Basic Democracies on October 26, 1959. As a result, elections were held in December 1959 and January 1960, in which 80,000 representatives were elected.

President of Pakistan:

February 1960, these delegates expressed confidence in General Ayub Khan. Thus, on February 7, 1960, General Ayub Khan was sworn in as the President of Pakistan.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS 1965

LONG QUESTIONS

- Q.1 Write a detail note on about the 1965 presidential election. (LHR 2016)(K.B)

Ans: PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS 1965

Background:

Under the 1962 constitution, the presidential election was held in January 1965 with four candidates. But the real contest was between General Ayub Khan and Mard-e-Millat Mohtarma Fatima Jinnah. Mother of the Nation Fatima Jinnah was in fact strongly opposed to the dictatorial system established by General Ayub Khan. You were not greedy for any position or power. But in order to save the country from dictatorship and to restore the parliamentary democratic institutions, you participated in this election in spite of old age and poor health.

Fatima Jinnah's Popularity:

After Quaid-e-Azam (may Allah have mercy on him), the Mother of the Nation was the only person who had every admiration and popularity in the country. When you took to the field, you were greeted enthusiastically from Dhaka to Karachi. The enthusiasm with which the people welcomed martial law in 1958 and the hopes associated with it had faded. It was a sign of his enthusiasm that a large number of people were already present in the hall before he reached the venue of the Mother of the Nation.

Increase in the Number of BD Members:

In 1965, the number of BD members was increased from 80,000 to 120,000.

Presidency Ratification:

President Ayub Khan elected 80,000 members of the Basic Democracy system to run the government in 1960 under the system of Basic Democracy and had his presidency ratified by these members of the Basic Democracy during Martial Law.

Re-Section:

The term of these members was ending in 1965. Therefore, he was re-elected in November 1964. Under the 1962 constitution, these members were the electoral body for the election of the President, the Provincial and Central Assemblies.

Defeating Ms. Fatima Jinnah:

Members of the Basic Democracy elected Ayub Khan president by a majority, and Ms. Fatima Jinnah was defeated.

Impacts of Elections on Politics:

The system of basic democracies became an important cause of Ayub Khan's downfall.

Allegation of Fraud:

All political parties in Pakistan's opposition accused Ayub Khan of rigging the so-called elections and launched a public relations campaign to restore democracy in the country.

Feeling of Deprivation:

Severe feelings of deprivation and insecurity arose in East Pakistan.

Six Point Demand:

The people of East Pakistan demanded a new constitution in their six-point demand. A joint people's movement of party and regional elements began. The people also raised a revolt against General Ayub Khan, which shook his government.

Conclusion:

Presidential elections were held in 1965. Fatima Jinnah participated despite her poor health. The people participated enthusiastically and supported Fatima Jinnah but due to rigging Ayub Khan won the election which created a sense of deprivation among the people. And the people raised the banner of rebellion.

FIVE YEAR DEVELOPMENT PLANS OF CENTRAL AYUB KHAN ERALONG QUESTIONS

Q.1 Describe the details of the second and third five year plan during the rule of General Ayub Khan. (K.B)

Ans: FIVE YEAR DEVELOPMENT PLANS

The second and third five-year development plans were introduced during the rule of General Ayub Khan.

(i) Second Five Year Development Plan (1960-1965)

An amount of Rs. 23 billion was estimated to meet the objectives and target of the second five-year plan. The major goals and objectives of this five-year development plan are to increase national income and per capita income, provide employment opportunities to the people, increase agricultural production and productivity of large and medium scale industries, domestic and increasing the production of small industries and increasing exports.

Significance of the Second Five-Year Plan:

The second five-year plan has the following significance:

- The second five-year development plan was a great success, but in many areas, the development exceeded the target.
- The second five-year plan is of special importance in Pakistan's economic planning.
- The success of this project was further encouraged and helped in future planning.

(ii) Third Five-Year Development Plan (1965-1970)

Following the success of the second five-year plan, the third five-year plan was developed. Its main objectives were to increase national income, provide employment to the entire workforce by 1985, eliminate dependence on foreign aid and close the per capita income disparity in different parts of the country. A total of Rs 52 billion was allocated to achieve these goals.

Causes of Failure:

The third five-year plan was not entirely successful and did not reach its target in most areas. In fact, unfavorable conditions surrounded the third five year development plan from the beginning. The details of which are as follows:

- In the first two years, drought affected the production of different crops badly.
- Pakistan and India war of 1965 increase defense spending, which reduce the resources for development expenditures.
- Agricultural development also decline.

Conclusion:

In short, the Third Five-Year Plan did not really get the requisite resources and the conducive environment needed for the economic development program.

SHORT QUESTIONS

Q.1 State the goals of the second five-year period. (K.B)

Ans: DEVELOPMENT-GOALS

An estimate of Rs. 23 billion was made to meet the objectives and targets of the second five- year plan. The major objectives and goals of this five-year development plan were as follows. • Increasing national income.

One unit was abolished from West Pakistan and all four provinces were restored.

Seats by Population:

By abolishing the equal distribution of National Assembly seats among the provinces, all the provinces were given National Assembly seats according to their population. The total number of seats has been increased to 313. In which

Women's Right to Run for General Seats:

Thirteen seats were reserved for women, while women were also given the right to contest general seats.

Candidate Age:

The minimum age for a candidate to run for office is 25 years.

Set a Timeline for the New Constitution:

If the new National Assembly fails to draft a new constitution within 120 days, the Assembly will be dissolved.

Policy for Future Constitution:

In addition to all these points, the Legal Framework Order 1970 formulated a policy for the future constitution. According to which the constitution of the country will be federal style.

Country Name:

The country was named the Islamic Republic

Islamic Theories:

The constitution will take into account Islamic ideology and democratic values.

Fundamental Rights:

Citizens will be able to exercise their basic rights freely.

Independence of the Judiciary:

The judiciary will be kept independent of the administration.

Autonomy of the Provinces:

The provinces will be given autonomy.

Authority of the President:

The President will have the power not to approve the Constitution unless the above points are part of the Constitution. The president will have the power to amend the constitution. And it cannot be challenged in any court.

Conclusion:

The Legal Framework Order was a beacon for the future of Pakistan which provided important principles in drafting the 1973 Constitution.

GENERAL ELECTIONS OF 1970

LONG QUESTIONS

- Q.1 Write a detail note on the 1970 general election. (K.B)

Ans:

THE 1970 GENERAL ELECTION

Background:

According to the Legal Framework Order 1970, general elections were held for the National Assembly and Provincial Assemblies. This was the first general election in Pakistan. According to official statistics, 63% of Pakistanis exercised their voting right in these elections and a total of 24 political parties participated in the elections. In these elections, 1,579 candidates contested for 300 seats in the National Assembly. It should be noted that the elections in East Pakistan (now Bangladesh) were delayed due to the flood situation. In the elections, Sheikh Mujibur Rahman's Awami League emerged as the largest party in the National Assembly. After the election, the political situation became uncontrollable.

Enthusiasm in the election:

This was the first election in the history of Pakistan on the basis of adult voting, so there was a lot of enthusiasm among the people for these elections. All political parties participated in these elections in large numbers. Among the major political parties, the Awami League and the Pakistan People's Party were very popular.

PPP slogan:

The PPP raised the slogan of bread, cloth and house, which became very popular among the people.

National Assembly Election Results:

Following the election results, the Awami League emerged as the sole majority party, winning 167 of the 300 general seats in the National Assembly, and the Pakistan People's Party winning 81 seats. All other parties managed to win only 37 seats in the National Assembly.

Provincial Assembly Election Results:

Similarly, the results of the Provincial Assembly were no different. The Awami League won 288 of the 300 seats in East Pakistan. The PPP won majorities in Punjab and Sindh, while the National Awami Party (NAP) and Jamiat Ulema-e-Islam (JUI) won majorities in NWFP (Khyber Pakhtunkhwa) and Balochistan.

Awami League central government:

The results of these elections made it clear that the Awami League would form a government at the center. The political leadership and bureaucracy of West Pakistan were concerned because the manifesto on which the Awami League had won was not acceptable to the political leadership of West Pakistan.

Transfer options:

The delay in the transfer of power to the new government has caused a wave of concern in East Pakistan. General Yahya Khan held talks with Awami League chief Sheikh Mujibur Rehman but could not succeed. Then came the civil war in East Pakistan.

The slogan of the independent state:

The Bengalis, with the help of the pro-India Mukti Bahini, raised the slogan of an independent state. Pakistani forces had to intervene to crush the insurgency. Thus began the bloody riots in East Pakistan.

Conclusion:

In the 1970 general elections, the Awami League won from East Pakistan and the PPP from West Pakistan, but conditions were created which prevented the Awami League from being handed over power and the situation deteriorated.

SHORT QUESTIONS

Q.1 State the results of the 1970 National Assembly elections. (K.B)

Ans: ELECTION RESULTS

The results of the 1970 National Assembly elections are as follows:

- Following the election results, the Awami League emerged as the only majority party to win 167 of the 300 general seats in the National Assembly.
- Pakistan Peoples Party won 81 seats.
- All other parties managed to win only 37 seats in the National Assembly.

Q.2 State the results of the 1970 Provincial Assembly elections. (K.B)

Ans: RESULTS OF THE ELECTIONS

The results of the 1970 Provincial Assembly elections are as follows:

- The results of the Provincial Assembly were no different. The Awami League won 288 of the 300 seats in East Pakistan.
- Pakistan Peoples Party won the majority in Punjab and Sindh.
- National Awami Party (NAP) and Jamiat Ulema-e-Islam (JUI) won majorities in NWFP (Khyber Pakhtunkhwa) and Balochistan.

Q.3 Despite winning the elections, why was the Awami League not allowed to form the government, to which East Bengal reacted? (K.B)

Ans: OBSTACLE TO THE FORMATION OF GOVERNMENT

The results of the 1970 elections made it clear that the Awami League would form a government at the center. The political leadership and bureaucracy of West Pakistan were concerned because the manifesto on which the Awami League had won was not acceptable to the political leadership of West Pakistan. As a result, the transfer of power to the new government was delayed, leading to a wave of concern in East Pakistan. General Yahya Khan held talks with Awami League chief Sheikh Mujibur Rehman but could not succeed. Then came the civil war in East Pakistan. The Bengalis, with the help of the pro-India organization Mukti Bahini, raised the slogan of an independent state.

THE SEPARATION OF EAST PAKISTAN AND THE FORMATION OF BANGLADESH

LONG QUESTIONS

- Q.1 Examine the causes and effects of the secession of East Pakistan and the formation of Bangladesh. (E Q. 10)(RWP 2016, 17)(K.B)

Ans:

THE 1970 GENERAL ELECTION

Background:

As a result of the 1970 general elections when the Awami League had won the majority in East Pakistan and the reins of the country were not handed over to the Awami League, the law and order situation developed in East Pakistan. To control this situation, Chief Martial Law Administrator General Yahya Khan declared emergency there. The Pakistan army tried to improve law and order situation but the situation kept on deteriorating day by day as the organization called Mukti Bahini was busy spreading riots there.

Under these circumstances, on March 15, 1971, Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, General Yahya Khan and Sheikh Mujibur Rahman met in Dhaka to restore peace. The negotiations ended without any results.

Migration of Bengalis:

India officially announced to help the Bengalis. The Indian army provided weapons to the rebels and started training them which worsened the situation between Pakistan and India. General Yahya Khan sent more troops to East Pakistan, with the result that Pakistan army gained control of the most of the areas. Given the situation, India attacked East Pakistan with its armed forces. The Pakistan army in East Pakistan contained the Indian forces for two weeks. When they ran out of supplies and no more aid could reach from West Pakistan.

Pakistan Army control:

General Yahya Khan sent more troops to East Pakistan, with the result that Pakistan army gained control of the most of the areas.

India's attack on East Pakistan:

Given the situation, India attacked East Pakistan with its armed forces. The Pakistan army in East Pakistan contained the Indian forces for two weeks. When they ran out of supplies and no more aid could reach from West Pakistan, India succeeded in its nefarious designs.

Establishment of Bangladesh:

Thus, on December 16, 1971, East Pakistan got separated and became an independent country by the name of Bangladesh.

CAUSES OF SEPARATION OF EAST PAKISTAN

A brief overview of the secession of East Pakistan can be taken from the following facts:

Geographical Distance:

There was a distance of one thousand miles between East and West Pakistan. Between these two wings, there was India, which had been engaged in its efforts to Undermine Pakistan's integrity ever since the partition of the subcontinent in 1947. Maintaining political and cultural ties between the two wings a thousand miles apart, was a challenging task. The cultures of the two parts were also very different from each other. East Pakistan was economically backward as compared to other provinces. This created a sense of deprivation in the local population, which led to the separation of East Pakistan.

Impacts of Hindus on Trade and Services

In East Pakistan trade and government jobs were dominated by Hindus in large numbers and they were stirring up separation sentiments under hidden motives.

Economic Backwardness

East Pakistan was economically backward and no government took adequate measures to remove economic disparities of this region.

Role of Hindu Teachers

Education sector in East Pakistan was totally under the control of the Hindus. They poisoned the Bengalis against Pakistan and aroused their sentiments.

Language Issue:

Although language issue was resolved under the Constitutions of 1956 and 1962 yet it had created a sense of deprivation with respect to the language among the people of East Pakistan. This sense of deprivation could not be removed despite the best efforts of the Governments.

Problem of Representation Ratio

Population of East Pakistan was 56% and they wanted the right of representation on the basis of majority of their population. Although they accepted representation on the basis of equality in the constitution of 1956 and 1962, yet they did not get their legitimate rights which led to frustration in them.

Indian Interference

India's undue interference in the affairs of East Pakistan also worsened the situation. India provided training and support to the Mukti Bahini workers and encouraged separatists.

Six Points of Mujeeb-ur-Rehmans:

Six points of the president of Awami League Sheikh Mujibur Rahman also promoted secession.

General Elections of 1970

The 1970 general elections gave a new twist to the situation and after the complete victory of Awami League in East Pakistan, people started thinking in a new perspective.

Government in West Pakistan:

After the emergence of Bangladesh General Yahya Khan handed over the power to the leader of Peoples Party, Zulfikar Ali Bhutto who had got majority of seats in West Pakistan.

Civil Martial Law Administrator:

In this way Zulfikar Ali Bhutto took oath as a first civil Martial Law Administrator in Pakistan.

Committee for Future Constitution:

To run the affairs of the country, an interim constitution was made in 1972 and to form the future constitution of the country, a committee of 25 members of legislature was constituted. All the political parties at National Assembly were given representation.

Conclusion:

The 1970 general elections were the path to democracy in Pakistan, but the situation created chaos in the country and the Awami League made the situation even more worrying with six points. Bangladesh's independence includes the criminal negligence of the bureaucracy, politicians and many other motives.

SHORT QUESTIONS

Q.1 How did the situation in East Pakistan deteriorate? (K.B)

Ans: THE SITUATION IN EAST PAKISTAN
